What is AUTISM?

Autism is a severely handicapping disorder. It is a neurological developmental disability that typically appears during the first three years of life. Autistic children are perfectly normal in appearance, but spend their time engaged in puzzling and disturbing behaviours, which are markedly different from those of typically developing children.

People with one of these disorders have problems processing messages sent to the brain.

As a result, it is often difficult for them to communicate and interact within their environments. Autism is found throughout the world, in families of all racial, ethnic, social, and economic backgrounds.

Your participation and support in this event will allow Camp for Autistic Children to participate in upcoming trips which include: days at the movies, gymnastics club and Wild Waterworks.

They go swimming every day and gather together for fun games, crazy songs, cool crafts, and lots of water activities!
